Sara Braitberg Moses

A SURVIVOR'S STORY

Sara Moses tells the story of her survival as one of the youngest children, without her parents, to survive a Jewish ghetto and two Nazi concentration camps, Ravensbruck and - finally - Bergen-Belsen, where Anne Frank died, that moves some in her audiences to tears.

In the last few years, Sara Moses has spoken to thousands of live audiences, and to millions more over the radio. Her story inspires audiences of all ages to see life from a new perspective. In her own words, she shares the lessons she learned from the Holocaust, which she believes can help us today, in dealing with a world still filled with cruelty, violence, and genocide.
